

10 Ways to Celebrate The International Day of Purpose

1. Hit the gym and dedicate your workout to a specific person, memory or cause. Honor your purpose by taking care of your body! #FitOnPurpose
2. Reflect on your purpose and career alignment. If you know you're in a lackluster job that's not purpose-driven, celebrate the #dayofpurpose by taking actions that shift that narrative. Update your resume and send it out. Research positions more aligned with your WHY. #WorkOnPurpose
3. Visit a sick friend, return that overdue phone call or send a note just because. Spend the day being intentional about how you show up for your friends. Celebrate the #dayofpurpose by honoring the important relationships in your life. #LoveOnPurpose
4. Join a 2019 #dayofpurpose Ambassador for an event!
5. Take a new route home. Book a new trip. Be intentional about exploring new parts of the world. #LoveOnPurpose
6. Host your own #dayofpurpose gathering. Be intentional about gathering others in conversation and community to solve a problem, discuss a new idea or celebrate a milestone! #LoveOnPurpose
7. Why put off that doctor's appointment any longer? Show up for your body and with intention, head to the doctor or visit another wellness practitioner #FitOnPurpose
8. Reflect on how you're living with intention and purpose by using our purpose packet #LoveOnPurpose
9. Meet with your mentee (or mentor). #LoveOnPurpose
10. Take a picture of you living #OnPurpose. You might be working out, spending time with family, reading a book, writing a story, making music or cooking a meal - share with the world how you Live OnPurpose! Share via social media with the hashtag #dayofpurpose

The ways to celebrate are endless, so how will YOU celebrate? Whatever you do, we hope you do it with intention and do it #OnPurpose!